FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR

NO. 28

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY JUNE 14, 1935

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—The appointment of M. Ray Allison, Assistant Secretary of State, to the important cabinet post of Director of Finance was announced last week by Governor Martin L. Davey. Mr. Allison, who succeeded Judge Howard L. Davis of Cincinnati, resigned, assumed his duties the day following the announcement of the appointment. The new finance director, originally from Champaign county, has been active in state politics for a number of years and since 1928 has served as Assistant Secretary of State. Mr. Allison, a lawyer by profession, was at one time auditor for the Department of Finance, attorney in the Department of Commerce and assistant superintendent of Budget. He is president of the Franklin County Democratic Club and the League of Young Democratic Clubs of Ohio. Secretary of State George S. Myers, in congratulating Director Allison on his appointment, announced that the position of Assistant Secretary of State will not be filled for the time being but that he himself will assume the duties of the office in order to make additional savings in the Department of State.

A special board to recommend a minimum wage and to open negotiations for a satisfactory wage schedule for the employees of Ohio restaurants and hotels will be named within a few days by Miss Elaine W. Sheffield, superintendent of the Minimum Wage Division of the State Department of Industrial Relations. The board will be composed of three employers, three employees and three citizens at large who have no direct connections with either labor or industry, Miss Sheffield said. At present mandatory wage scales are in effect in the dry cleaning and laundry industries.

The Ninety-first Ohio General Assembly concluded its regular session last week with a record of passing 388 laws out of approximately 800 bills that were introduced. A special session will be called by Governor Davey late in the summer, it was announced. One of the measures that was given favorable action dated back to the trying days of the Civil War when Morgan's Confederate raiders invaded Ohio. It authorized a $500 payment to Linda Burke, Oyster of Cincinnati for horses stolen from her family by Morgan's men. Of particular interest was a legislative recommendation to establish a state park as a memorial to the late William A. "Billy" Ireland, internationally-known creator of the famous "Fleeting Show" features of the Columbus Sunday Dispatch. The author of "The Fleeting Show" died suddenly two weeks ago and was buried at his boyhood home, Chillicothe. The legislative proposal is to make a William A. Ireland State Memorial Park in the district he loved most and about which he wrote frequently—the Mt. Logan region, site of the design for the Great Seal of Ohio, in his native Ross county. In his childhood days Mr. Ireland roamed the wooded slopes of Mt. Logan and the surrounding hills. Newspapers and magazines throughout the world have re-published many of his cartoons.

About 4,000 applicants for the 300 positions which will be filled in the sales tax division of the State Tax Commission will take civil service examinations this week, according to Chairman Ralph W. Ekmann of the Civil Service Commission. The examinations will be conducted in six key cities—Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo and Dayton. The salaries for the positions range from $1,500 to $3,000 annually. The tests will be held June 12, 13 and 14.

For the first time since before the disastrous Easter Monday fire and riots at Ohio Penitentiary in 1930 the inmates have been accorded freedom of the prison yard, it became known here last week. Under the new management of Warden James C. Wood, the prisoners were let out of their cells and permitted to roam about the huge inside prison yard for two hours on Decoration Day. Conduct was said to have been 100 per cent good, which attracted the gratitude of the inmates for the extra privilege. A special holiday dinner was prepared for the event and while in the yard the prisoners were entertained with a concert by the prison band.

Chinch Bugs May Trouble Farmers

Reports reaching the office of the Greene County Farm Bureau indicate that Chinch Bugs may be a serious pest to Greene County farmers this year.

A number of farmers have reported an abundance of bugs in fields of wheat, rye and barley. The heaviest infestation was reported near the edge of fields adjoining woods, ditch banks and dense grass along fence rows, where the bugs had spent the winter. According to County Agent E. A. Drake the bugs moved to the grain fields about June 1 and the first generation of young insects will appear in about one week. No serious damage to small grain is expected, however, due to luxuriant growth of these crops.

When small grains are harvested the bugs are only partially mature and being wingless, they are forced to crawl to adjoining fields of corn or oats.

Unless the march is checked by Crocoteo barriers, much damage may be done, especially to corn if it is small. Excessive rains during the next three weeks will hold the bugs in check, however the rains to date have had no effect on the adult insect. The hot, dry weather of the last few years has been exceedingly favorable for their development which accounts for their large numbers in this section.

In a survey made in 21 counties in which an average of seventy thousand bugs per county were examined, it was found that there were an average of 32 adult bugs per square foot. Crocoteo Oil will again be supplied farmers to construct barriers. A demonstration on the methods of constructing barriers will be held Monday afternoon June 24. The places will be announced later. Farmers are urged to examine periodically their small grain fields and if bugs are found in large numbers to place their orders for all with County Agent E. A. Drake.

Cedarville Project Has Been Approved

Three projects in Greene County involving an authorized expenditure of $1,200, largely for labor, have been approved by the state relief administration for inclusion in the FERA "works division" program.

The expenditures sanctioned are: $450 for caulking, repairs and painting roof and doors at Xenia Central High School building; $325 for sidewalk construction on College St. in Cedarville; $425 for construction of a reinforced cement concrete culvert under Cincinnati Ave., on C.S. route 42 in Xenia.

The local improvement has been made possible by the property owners on the south side of College street depositing enough money with the village to pay for the material required.

$18,500 Award Made To Youth

Judge R. L. Gowdy, of Greene county, Saturday awarded Ray M. Smith, 20, of Spring Valley, damages of $18,500 in his suit against John Titus, Middletown, vice president of the American Rolling Mill.

Young Smith, who is a nephew of Ray M. Smith, city manager, Xenia, had asked for $50,000.

The action was instituted as the result of an automobile accident May 18, 1934, in which Smith suffered injuries which necessitated amputation of his left leg at the hip.

The accident occurred when the auto in which he was riding, driven by an accident with one driven by Titus on Route 42 near Xenia.

The case was originally tried by a jury, but after one juror was taken ill, counsel agreed the verdict should be returned by Judge Gowdy.

SENIOR CLASS HEARS ADDRESS BY M. E. PASTOR

The thirty-eighth annual commencement of Cedarville College, Friday, when forty-four graduates received degrees, was marked by one of the finest addresses ever given in Cedarville on such an occasion.

The speaker to address the class was the Rev. Donald H. Tippet, D.D., pastor of the Bereley, Columbus, Methodist Episcopal Church, noted pastor and lecturer.

The address to the class was based on "Today's Youth Looking Forward to Tomorrow." He said:

"To say that our time is an age of change is to state the case mildly. It could be better described as an age of confusion. It is a day in which nations have jumped from laissez faire democracy to dictatorship; of one kind or another an age which has seen nationalisms go crazy, and has witnessed the devastation of our public schools by demagogues whose subtle promises of a balanced budget have won the support of the unthinking in our midst. The industrial revolution is still at work and will be for many years to come shunting men off on a sliding and giving the machine the right of way. Ours is an age of unprecedented abundance and at the same time a day of the most devastating poverty our nation has known. Our age has seen religion outlawed in some countries and exiled in others; ridiculed in some and radically revised in others.

"The youth of the world are living in one of the most exciting periods in modern history. They have been nurtured in an atmosphere of ferment, never having known a normal period for there has been none since the war. Post-war prosperity, soaring prices, heights of abnormality and then the depression seeking and finding not only all time lows in economic values, but in practical content as well; are some evidence of the difference in their background and ours. They have lived in a period that has been solving more definitely toward the solution of age old problems than any the age in history.

"Into this world of confusion many philosophies of life have been projected and among them all that of Jesus still stands supreme. . . . 'If Jesus is right in His contention that man is the son of God He has placed the highest evaluation upon human personality the world has known. Basic to His entire philosophy of life is His respect for personality. That involves the tremendous problem of learning how to live with other people. In this day of confusion it is not easy to solve this problem. Living together in the marital relationship is becoming increasingly difficult. In 1870, for example, there was only one divorce to every thirty-seven marriages. A half century later there was one divorce to every six marriages.

"Learning how to live together involves even greater complications in the labor world. For with the introduction of the machine increasing friction between capital on the one hand and labor on the other has been introduced. In the realm of international relationships learning how to live together has assumed tremendous proportions. The gripping of this globe does not remember the World War except an earlier date in history, 19, to receive the June collection of Shove the World War, however, the real estate taxes.

Mrs. Margaret J. Work Gets M. A. Music Degree

Mrs. Margaret J. Work, head of the Music Department of Cedarville College, has completed part of her post-graduate work in music when she graduated from the College of Music, Cincinnati, at commencement Wednesday evening.

Those from here attending were Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Jamieson, Misses Carrie Rife, Martha Waddie and Eleanor Finney.

Mrs. Work received a fine tribute of her work in recital from Theodore Spongel, Music Critic for the Cincinnati Free Press. The critic said in part:

One saw a tender woman's figure which with fine hands mastered an important and powerful instrument with apparently playful ease and gracefulness. At the beginning of the program was placed Josef Rheinberger (known and beloved by all from the city of Munich) with his fine Sonata in E minor, which in regard to contents and working out, could have filled out an entire evening.

The Seven Ravens, symphonies, "Wallenstein," as well as choral works, church pieces, and songs, was born in 1889 and from 1877 was chapel-master in Munich. The second and third group comprised incomparable Choral Preludes of the Old Master, among them the beloved "In dulci Jubilo," and the Toccata and Fugue in D minor, which makes colossal demands on technique and registration and can be classed as the same of Organ Art. Among the numbers in the closing group the newer compositions in more romantic and characteristic mood pictures which moved in the most interest, were Navin's Staccato Etude, The Harlequin, and Bossie's "St. Francis Colloquy with the Sparrow." These, with the great pedal study of Yon, were Margaret Work's masterpieces. The whole house was enthused. Better could not the spirit of Tone Painting be shown. Here was shown what her name Work (arbit) could do toward the arriving at an aimed-for goal.

The State Tax Commission has given the Silvercreek Twp. Board or Education authority to hold a special bond election to vote on a $95,000 issue for a new school building in Jamestown.

This would be the district share to meet a government loan of $77,000. Sixty-five per cent of the electors must approve the issue. The district turned down a bond issue a few years ago.

In the 1885-1886 session of the Legislature, the 24th meeting, the new tax law had gone into effect, assessing personal property as well as lands under the old statute. The total value in the State was $55,994,750. Of this $45,992,582 was real estate and buildings; horses, $274,069; cattle, $5,208,493. The number of acres of land taxed was 15,174,186.

Canal construction was progressing well, and it might be said here that in all the years of building the canal under Alfred Kelley, a Cleveland attorney as Canal Commissioner, not one dollar of the nearly sixteen millions cost of construction, according to reports made, went astray in disbursements, either as agents contracts or for contingent and incidental expenses. The Canal Fund Commission negotiated a loan of one million dollars from John Jacob Astor, the six per cent bonds bringing a premium. Soon a loan of a larger amount was negotiated.

Allen Trimble, after being twice defeated as a candidate, was finally elected Governor by an overwhelming majority at the October election, 1886, and took office during the 25th legislative session which ended January 31, 1887.

July 3, 1827, the canal boat, State of Ohio, made its maiden voyage from Portage Summit, near Akron, to Cleveland. The event was celebrated by addresses by Governor Trimble and Canal Commissioner Kelley.

Mostly local matters were taken up by the twenty-sixth session of the Legislature.

Flag Day Observed By

D. A. R. Chapter

"Flag Day," which will be celebrated Friday, was observed by Cedar Cliff Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a luncheon and program, marking the close of the chapter season, at the beautiful country home of Mrs. W. A. Turnbull, near Cedarville, Tuesday afternoon.

Preceding the meeting a two course luncheon was served at small tables. There were covers for forty members and guests.

The afternoon's program opened with a devotional service conducted by Mrs. J. S. West. Mrs. Fred Townsend, regent, introduced Miss Charlotte Regent, regent of Lagonda Chapter, D. A. R., Springfield, and state D. A. R. chairman of magazines, Miss Burton spoke briefly.

Guest speakers were Mrs. John S. Harney, Springfield, regent of the Ohio D. A. R., who outlined the work planned for the year, and Mrs. A. C. Messenger, Xenia, vice president general of the D. A. R., who reviewed the Continental Congress held in Washington recently. Mrs. Messenger urged state and national cooperation by members of the D. A. R.

Mrs. Turnbull was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. I. C. Davis, Mrs. Lucy Turner, Mrs. Frank Creswell and Mrs. Howard Turnbull.

Mrs. John S. Harney Honored By Federation

Mrs. John S. Harney, Huntington, W. Va., and Cedarville, was honored this week by being elected recording secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in session at Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Harney has been prominent in club work in West Virginia for the state organization and was in attendance at the Detroit meeting.

There was a spirited fight in the convention over the election of president, Mrs. Dr. Josephine L. Pollock of Lima, O., who was defeated by Mrs. Roberts Campbell Lawson, Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. Alberta Stokes, (nee Hemphill) with her mother, Mrs. Sam Hemphill and husband and son have been spending a week with relatives here. Their present home is Pueblo, Colorado.

Judge S. C. Wright who purchased the residence adjoining his property has started improvements that will provide modern accommodations.

Three farm residences are under construction in this vicinity. That of Howard Arthur, Wallace Rife and Leonard Flatter, all three replacing buildings that were recently destroyed by fire.

Prospects are bright for a large crop of small fruits such as strawberries, blackberries, cherries, etc. There will be some peaches and the crop of apples looks good at this time.

Mrs. C. H. Gordon was hostess to the members of the Clark's Run Club and guests Wednesday afternoon, the event being Great Day. Concerts were engaged in and the afternoon enjoyed in a suitable manner. An ice cream course was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. William Ferguson.

Mrs. C. A. McGarry of Warren, O., is visiting with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jackson in Xenia.

Temperance Notes

Sponsored by Cedarville W. C. T. U.

You may hush every other voice of national and individual complaint; you may silence every other tongue, even those of mothers of drunken sons and daughters, of wives of profligate husbands; but let the children speak—the 117,000 children, the wronged children, the crippled children, the abused children, the blind children, the imbecile children, the nameless children, the starved children, the deserted children, the beaten children, the dead children!

Oh my God, this army of little children! Let their weak voices, faint with oppression, cold and hunger, be heard... Let their little faces, pinched by want of gladness, be heeded! Let their challenge—though made by small forms, too mighty for estimate—be reckoned with! Let their writing upon the wall of the nation—although traced by tiny fingers, as stupendous as eternity—be correctly interpreted and read, that the awful robbery of the lawful heritage of their little bodies, minds and souls is laid at the brazen gate of ALCOHOL.

—Evangeline Booth.

Horse Prices Rise

As Supply Shrinks

McCann Cites Census Figures To Support Statement Prices Will Hold

Higher prices for good draft horses may be expected to hold for several years to come, in the opinion of L. P. McCann, extension specialist in animal husbandry for the Ohio State University.

More and more farmers are wanting to buy one or two registered mares of one or the other of the leading breeds, and the demand for good stallions has not been equalled in recent years, McCann says.

He says the demand for good stallions can not be met, at least at reasonable prices, which unfortunately is resulting in the use of scrub and mongrel stallions as sires.

Comparing the census figures, the animal husbandman finds that the number of horses in the United States is hardly more than half that of 15 years ago. In 1920 there were 20,092,000 horses on farms; now the number is estimated at 11,827,000. This drop in numbers, 41 per cent, is even less than the drop reported for Ohio. On Ohio farms there are now about 451,000 head—a reduction of 45 per cent, McCann says.

Although used for 30,000,000 horses on farms no longer exist, there is still need for a larger number than we now have, in McCann's judgment. He says replacement will be a slow process. Many mares are approaching advanced ages, and since four or five years must elapse before a farmer has horses to sell after deciding to raise colts, it will be some years before the supply will catch up to demand for good draft animals, he adds.

Rise in prices in Ohio has resulted in much increased interest in horse flesh. Farmers in 22 counties in two or three years have organized horse or colt show associations, according to McCann.

Lesson for June 16

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 8:11-18. GOLDEN TEXT—It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.—I Corinthians 4:2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Sharing God's Gifts.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Joyous Use of God's Gifts.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Does Stewardship Mean?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Practicing Stewardship Today.

I. Warning Against Forgetting God (Deut. 8:11-18).

1. Through plenty (vv. 12, 13). It is always true that the people of prosperity forget God.

2. Through pride (vv. 13, 14). The natural tendency of the human heart when visited with abundance is to be lifted up with pride.

3. Through self-confidence (vv. 13-15). The Israelites' sense of pride in self-confidence. The children of Israel arrogated to themselves the power to get wealth. It is ever so that material prosperity turns the natural heart away from God as the source of blessing.

II. The Sin of Hoarding God's Gifts (Mal. 3:12).

One of the sins of Israel which brought upon them the chastising hand of the Lord was that of withholding the tithes. The prophet assures the people that their bringing into the storehouse their tithes and offerings would be responded to by God in sending them abundance.

III. Talents Are to Be Used for God (Matt. 25:14-30).

1. The distribution of the talents (vv. 14, 15). This distribution was a sovereign act, giving to each one of his own servants his own money.

2. The employment of the talents (vv. 16-18). Two put to use the talents given them, resulting in doubling their value. One hid his talent.

3. The accounting for the talents (vv. 19-30). The Lord later demanded an accounting from each one of the servants. The one who had been faithful was not only praised but promoted, while the one who hid his talent was not only reproached but also suffered the loss of the talent given him.

IV. Giving Should Be Systematic (1 Cor. 16:2).

This instruction concerning giving is based upon the glorious doctrine of the resurrection of Christ. The one who has come under the power of the resurrection of Christ will be both systematic and liberal in his benevolence.

The standard of Christian giving is not the tithe, but "as God hath prospered him."

V. Principles of True Benevolence (II Cor. 8:12-15).

1. Examples of true Christian giving.

a. The source of true giving (v. 1) is said to be the grace of God, which means that the disposition to give freely of one's possessions must be created by the Holy Spirit.

b. They gave from the depths of their poverty (v. 2), and their unstinted gifts thus bore a richer in meaning.

c. Their willingness surpassed their ability (v. 3). God reckons gifts by the degree of willingness, not by the amount given.

d. They were insistent on being allowed the privilege of giving (v. 4). Christians ought to be taught that giving of their means is a high privilege.

e. They gave of themselves to the Lord (v. 5). The only method of raising money which has God's sanction is a consecrated hand in its own pocket.

2. Emulation in giving urged (II Cor. 8:16-19). Paul used the generosity of the Macedonian church as a means of stimulating liberality with the Corinthians.

a. Not as a command (v. 8). Giving which has God's sanction must be not only spontaneous, but liberal.

b. As a proof of the sincerity of love (v. 8). Love is the greatest action toward the one loved.

c. As the completion of their harmony of Christian character (v. 7). The Corinthian church abounded in spiritual gifts, but needed the grace of liberality for the harmonizing of their lives.

d. Christ an example of self-sacrifice (v. 9). Christ was rich, but for their sakes he became poor.

e. Gifts to be acceptable with God must be from a willing mind (vv. 10-12).

f. Every Christian should give something (vv. 13-15).

3. Encouragement to give (II Cor. 9:6, 7).

a. The volume of reaping is based upon the sowing (v. 6).

b. There should be a heart purpose (v. 7). Giving should not be of necessity (v. 7). d. God loves a cheerful giver (v. 7).

All Are of God

Activities commonly called non-religious—science, art, literature, industry—all come from the same God. Their autonomy must be respected in the sense that there must be no attempt at ecclesiastical control over them.

Life

Life is not made up of great sacrifices of great duties, but of little things. Smiles and kindness given habitually are what win and preserve the heart.—Mr. H. Davis.

Receipts of livestock at this market was comparatively light due to farmers working in the fields in this section of the country.

The day's run in the hog division consisted of two doubles. Trading ruled slow with prices mostly 5 to 10 cents lower than a week ago, buyers resisted any effort to bring the prices up to last Monday's levels. A double of good and choice 211-lb. averages cashed at 9.85. Small lots of strictly choice dry lot offerings scaled about 225-lb. turned at 9.90 to 9.95. Weigher kinds were almost negligible. The bulk of 160 to 200-lb. weights moved largely within the range of 9.75 to 9.80, light lights went to killers at 9.25 to 9.30. Weights under 140-lb. turned at 9.25 to 9.35 and 60 to 100-lb. pigs going back to the feed lot found an outlet at 9.50 to 10.75. The supply of sows continued to be limited, price levels were considered fully steady with a week ago. Best smooth offerings sold largely from 8.25 to 8.75, the latter price being the day's top and paid freely for the weighty offerings.

Cattle offerings were limited but the quality was more desirable than a week ago, a load of choice dry fed steers scaling 1010 lbs. cashed at 11.00, the bulk of the steers brought 9.50 to 10.25. Fat cows were considered weak to 25c lower than a week ago, best offerings selling downward to 6.00, with cutters and low cutters going at from 2.50 to 4.00.

All grades and weights of veal calves were in demand today with buyers paying 10 to 25c higher prices than last Monday. 31 head of good and choice vealers scaling 181 lbs. scaled the day's top of 9.35. Common to medium light weights were taken at from 7.00 to 9.00.

The run of fat lambs was slightly larger than a week ago and price levels were considered strong to 50c higher, quality considered. Choice 34-lb. ewe and wether lambs sold at 9.10 for the day's top, lighter weights sold downward from 8.50.
